If you have an older child that is looking to improve this off season or gain some crucial practice time before summer tournaments and leagues start, then this would be a great place to begin.

The main focus for this class will be to improve doubles and singles strategy, work on fitness and footwork, as well as match play to incorporate the drills we go through during the clinic. The class will be run at a high pace with a lot of cardio based drills that focus on the high percentage strategies that will be crucial for competing at the high school level and beyond.
